

Art Vandelay

Architect | Marine Biologist | Author

Summary

I am a driven and passionate architect, marine biologist, and author. I have a New York Times bestselling novel and I have founded a successful corporation and charity. I am seeking full time positions in the fields of architecture, city engineering, marine biology, or writing. My interests include baseball, whales, Frogger, Trivial Pursuit, and velvet

Education

Columbia University | 3.88 GPA | May 1982

- Bachelor of Science in Marine Biology

Skills

- Technologies: AutoCAD, SOLIDWORKS, MS Office, Matlab
- Soft Skills: Technical and narrative writing, professional communication, project management

Experience

Founder and CEO | Vandelay Industries | December 1985 – Present

- Founder and CEO of importing/exporting corporation
- Focused largely on latex sales

Assistant to the Traveling Secretary | The New York Yankees | May 1994 – May 1997

- Operated under Yankees owner George Steinbrenner
- Responsible for assisting the traveling secretary
- Worked overtime, even overnight, to get a job done when necessary

Founder | The Human Fund | December 1997 - Present

- Started non-profit organization with the mission “Money for People”

Publications

Venetian Blinds | December 1991

- Wrote and self-published a book on my experiences in early 1960s America
- Reached the New York Times best sellers list and held a place there for 6 weeks